

ADF™

AMERICAN DEHYDRATED FOODS, INC.

We're held to a higher standard – our own.

With concern about safety and regulations in the petfood industry, working with an ingredient supplier you can trust is critical to a brand's success.

ADF has always had an uncompromising commitment to safety. Now we've taken that commitment even further by offering USDA-inspected products. Our spray-dried chicken and turkey ingredients are made from food grade raw materials and are processed only in a USDA-inspected facility.

We offer complete traceability of all our protein ingredients and we ensure consistency by carefully adhering to our industry-leading process and production management procedures.

Our focus is providing quality protein ingredients you can trust.

Your customers expect nothing less than absolute safety from your petfood products. Demand nothing less from your suppliers.
